The work of the Freedman's Aid

menace to the country.

After the address a pleasant reception was tendered the delegates by the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

This morning the conference held a session beginning with the Lord's supper, after which Samuel Phelps Leland gave a hearty address of welcome in which he told of the great power of the Methodist church in numbers and spirit. Bishop F. D.
Leete of Atlanta responded very hap-

FUND FOR SARACINA BAND NOT YET FULLY SUBSCRIBED

PRESIDENT OF BOARD OF TRADE WOULD LIKE TO HEAR FROM THOSE WILLING TO HELP PAY
THE MUSICIANS.

While everybody in Daytona is enjoying the free concerts being rendered by the Saracina Royal Italian band, it might be called to the attention of everybody that the fund necessary to pay for its services has not yet been all paid in, and donations toward this fund will be thankfully received by L. M. Waite, president of the board of trade.

A sufficient proportion of the fund was subscribed early in the season to warrant the contract being signed with the band and the committee felt warranted in making the necessary arrangements to have the musicians come here and remain through the winter season. As soon as it was announced that the band was assured the donations ceased. Mr. Waite is anxious to complete the fund and urges all who are willing to subscribe to see him and put down the sums they are willing to give toward the daily concerts.

Some Encouragement.
"That girl has rejected me three times," confided the disconsolate youth. "Well," replied Miss Cayenne, "you should feel encouraged. A girl who will listen to three proposals from the same man must think something of him."

The New Hat.
"I am afraid that girl has cerebrospinal trouble," said the near-sighted man. "No, she hasn't," answered his wife. "She is merely trying to walk in such a way as to keep her large hat at precisely the proper angle."

A MAN YOU KNOW.

J. D. C. MORRIS

Member of the Gruber-Morris hardware corporation, who is gaining quite a reputation as a writer of "catchy" advertising matter.

Maybe She Liked Coffee.

Kent Cooper, a newspaper man, said he was in a restaurant in Chicago recently when he observed, sitting at the table next him, an evidently well-to-do young man and a young woman, the latter of whom showed signs of not being accustomed to the restaurants of the class she was then patronizing. When the remnants of the dessert were removed from before the pair, the waiter stood at attention for the final order.

"I think you may bring me a cigar and a demi tasse," said the man. "I don't care for a cigar," giggled the girl, "but you may bring me one of the other things and a cup of coffee."

Fresh Air and Digestion.

Other things being equal, the woman who sleeps with wide opened windows and spends several hours each day in the open air will stand a far better chance of being able to digest and assimilate a normal ration than she whose close room obliges her to breathe the same air over and over.

STATE HAPPENINGS

News from Fair Florida Briefly Told

Kissimmee has a population of 3-468, according to a census taken by the city.

The United States Steel Corporation will open a branch in Pensacola for the purpose of exporting coal and other products through that port when the Panama canal is opened.

The acetylene gas plant at Crescent City, which lights the auditorium and the street lights on Central avenue, exploded a few nights ago while being repaired. The man in charge was severely burned.

A new cigar factory has just been opened for business in prosperous Fort Meyers. The first order for 1000 cigars has been placed with the new company by a well known citizen of that town, who will have them branded "After Dinner Puffs."

Of the six or seven million boxes,
the estimate of the Florida citrus crop, more than half is yet on the trees. The market will soon be in better condition and better prices will be had for the fruit. The oranges will remain on the trees sound and firm until April or May. — De-Land Record.

All preliminary arrangements have been completed for the establishment of the Methodist summer chautauqua
and assembly on Anastasia island, near St. Augustine, and construction work will commence this week. In addition to preliminary work much progress has been made by the surveyors who have been at work mapping out the new route of the electric railway as it enters the chautauqua grounds. It is hoped to have the large buildings sufficiently advanced to open the coming summer.

Clarence Norton, aged five years,
was bitten by a dog at Lakeland.
The child's face was terribly lacer-ated and one finger nearly bitten off.
The dog was killed immediately and the head sent to the health authorities at Tampa, who wired that the dog had the worst developed case of rabies ever coming under their notice.
Dr. W. C. Love immediately wired for the Pasteur treatment, and the child will be given the best attention the medical profession can suggest in order to save its life.

A branch of the National Housewives League is to be organized in Orlando. It will be recalled that it was the activity of this organization that recently forced down the price of eggs in Philadelphia. It seems that Florida is practically the only state in the Union where the organization has not gained a foothold, and it is understood to be the desire of the national president, Mrs.
Julian Health, to get this state into line. It is likely that Orlando will be the first city of the state to organize a branch society.

One of the pleasant little incidents of the inauguration of Gov. Park Trammell and which evidences more ways than one how the American people adapt themselves to the result of elections, was the placing on the desk of the governor in the executive chamber just before the inaugural ceremonies, of a magnificent basket of pure white carnations. A card was found among the flowers with this written on it, "From the vanquished to the victor—with every good wish." The bouquet was the gift of William C. Hodges, lately progressive nominee for governor against Mr. Trammell.

Very dramatic, almost tragic, was the death of Daniel Brown at the Methodist parsonage in Bartow. He

WAS ALWAYS ON THE JOB

Mr. Bingleton Discovers a New Situation With Danger From Street Beggars.

"For a long time," said Mr. Bingleton, "I have made it a custom to look carefully in either direction before stopping to look in at a show window, doing this to avoid being taken by surprise by beggars. Now I have discovered another street situation in which one must take like care.

"Walking along the street this morning I became conscious that one of my shoestrings was untied and I looked along for a convenient store
step on which I could put my foot up;
and there I did put it up, and I was busily engaged in tying the string, working away at it with no other thought in the world, when—

"Mister, I heard a voice at my ear, 'can you give me five cents to get a cup of coffee? I haven't had—'
"And there he stood beside me, close alongside, where he had me at a disadvantage. He was within my guard, and I gave up, not because I thought I ought to, but because of my inward appreciation of the work of a man who evidently was always on the job, ever alert and letting no chance escape him."

To Freshen Air.

To freshen the air of a sickroom, ground coffee should be sprinkled on a shovel or coal-scoop previously heated in the fire. A match should then be held to a small piece of camphor-gum, and when this is alight it should be placed in the center of the shovel.
The burning coffee gives an aromatic aroma to the room, which is very refreshing.

To Exterminate Vermin.

Mix and let stand for several hours
one-half gallon of gasoline and ten cents' worth of corrosive sublimate.
Put the mixture into a pint oil can,
with a long spout, and spray into every place where there are bugs. Air the room thoroughly. After a few applications the vermin will have entirely disappeared.

ticular gratification when she gets a

was engaged in hauling the household goods of the new Methodist minister.
The Rev. Mr. Bell, when he fell faint.
He had been exerting himself with a piano on the piazza when he reeled and staggered. The minister seized him in his arms and gently laid him on the floor, while others hurriedly sent a call for a physician and for his wife. Just as they arrived and while the minister held Mr. Brown's hand and prayed for him, he passed away without recognizing his friends and relatives.

CHAIRMAN OF COUNTY BOARD JAILED ON MURDER CHARGE

THOMAS CLEMENTS SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED TO SLAYING
W. H. GUNN, JR., IN LIBERTY COUNTY.

QUINCY, Fla., Jan. 16 — Thomas Clements, Sr., chairman of the board of county commissioners of liberty county, is in jail here for safe keeping, accused of the murder of William H. Gunn, Jr., son of the wealthiest man in that county.

With his two sons Clements was indicted by the grand jury. The boys have disappeared. According to a member of the jury, it is said, Clements confessed to the crime. He is held without bail.

Fearing that Mr. Clements would not be safe in jail at Bristol, the county judge asked the circuit judge for an order transferring the case from Liberty county to Gadsden county and the defendant is now being held in jail here.

The most damaging testimony heard by the jury that was given by a negro who heard the shots when Gunn was assassinated. He went to the scene and claims he saw Mr. Clements and his two sons mounting horses to ride away. The young man's body had been riddled with bullets and buck shot, many shots being fired by the assassins.

Then one member of the coroner's jury testified that Mr. Clements, one of the most prominent men of that section of Liberty county, had admitted to him that he had committed the deed.

The young man assassinated was of a very prominent and wealthy family, and his death in such a manner caused a sensation. The reason for the assassination is yet a mystery.

Gunn was called to the door one night just before Christmas and shot down. It was at that time reported as a lynching. A woman is said to be mixed up in the affair.

William McIntosh, the "Scotch Indian"

HE was half Scotch, half Indian, wholly scoundrel. His mother was a squaw of the "Creek nation." His father was a Scotch trader and soldier. The son took the name William McIntosh. But he remained with his mother's people and was made a Creek war chief.

The Creeks were a powerful federation of Indian tribes whose lands stretched through several of the southernmost states. The white settlers, growing more and more numerous, cast envious eyes on the rich Creek country and appealed to the United States government to get it away from its redskin owners for them. It was the same old story enacted so many times along the frontier when the white man has wanted the Indian's land. The government turned over several million acres of Creek territory to the state of Georgia. McIntosh pointed out to his people that unless they stood firm for their possessions the government would soon have every acre of their once huge tract of land. He then drew up a law—which the Creeks eagerly adopted—making it a crime punishable by death for a Creek to try to sell to the United States any of the remaining territory. This law made McIntosh immensely popular with the Indians. He now proceeded to make himself equally popular with the government.

In the War of 1812 most of the Creeks sided with Great Britain. But McIntosh declared himself a friend of the United States and managed to raise a big war party, which followed him against the rest of his "nation." He attacked a village of Creeks (Atasi) that had sided with England and massacred its 200 men, women and children. In other conflicts of that same war he fought so savagely against his own people as to win not only the rank of major, but the trust of our government. Incidentally his services opened to him a pleasant field for graft.

The United States was eager for more of the Creek lands. McIntosh stood high in the Creek councils. He could be of use in managing "treaties" for the despoiling of his people. He willingly accepted the government's offer and secretly became its paid agent. It was a highly profitable bit of double-dealing—for a time.

Fifteen million acres of Creek land were soon after transferred to the United States. McIntosh reaped a rich harvest by this "treaty." But it ruined him with the Creeks. They made no open threats against the traitor; but they simply met in council and re-enacted his own former law, making any such future transfers punishable by death.

In 1824 McIntosh received a large cash offer for his services in a plan for ceding 10,000,000 more acres of the Creeks to the government. The majority of the Creeks fiercely protested against this glaring robbery. John C. Calhoun, secretary of state, declared that it was cruelly unjust. President Monroe laid the treaty before the United States senate. And, after John Quincy Adams' inauguration, it was approved. A letter in which McIntosh had offered bribe money to one of the Creek officials to side with the government was discovered by the Indians. This proved the wily half-breed's treachery past all question. The Creeks—using his own old law as a death warrant—declared McIntosh's life forfeited.

This time McIntosh was really alarmed. He retired to a fortified house at Milledgeville and surrounded himself with a strong guard. The Creeks went about the traitor's execution in a quiet, business-like way.

On the night of May 1, 1825, one hundred of them surrounded his house. They sent orders to his guards, servants and family to leave the place at once. Then they burned the house to the ground. McIntosh, dashing out through the flames, was shot dead.

No punishment was inflicted on McIntosh's slayers. The question of vengeance was brought before President Adams. But, for everybody's sake, it was deemed best to let the affair drop. It was a scandal the administration did not care to make too public.

His Advantage.

"Why," asked the foreign suitor, "do you prefer this plain American to me, a man of titles?"

"So is he a man of titles," replied the fair young heiress, "and his titles have this advantage over yours, that they can stand an examination by a guarantee and trust company."

How He Got It.

"How did you get that fine spring overcoat?"

"I had a sure tip on a horse race—" "I never knew one of those tips to pan out."

"Neither did I. So I didn't play it. Uut the money into an overcoat instead."

A Mystery

By F. A. MITCHEL

Herman Beck was a guide in the Swiss Alps. Old Gottlieb Swinger, the cheesemaker, had a very pretty daughter, Anna, whom Herman wished to marry, but her father would not consent. "I have nothing but a few cheese presses," he said to her, "a dozen goats and the chalet over our heads. I can consequently give you no dowry. Herman has nothing except what he can earn guiding tourists. Instead of having a son-in-law to relieve me of providing for one of my children I shall likely in time have grandchildren on my hands, for Herman is liable at any time to slide down to his death with an avalanche or fall over a precipice."

Anna gave this reply to her father to Herman, who cast his eyes thoughtfully up the mountain side, then said: "Tell your father that whether I marry you or do not marry you I will provide for you."

When Anna told her father that he exclaimed: "Herman is a fool. He dreams dreams as high up in the clouds as the peaks he climbs. How could he provide for you?"

The girl made no reply to this, for she did not know what Herman meant. She knew that he was full of strange ideas, and she was impressed with the sad but resolute expression on his face when he spoke the words that she had repeated to her father. However there was nothing to be done in the matter, for she had no idea of disobeying her father by marrying Herman.

One day an English gentleman engaged Herman to make an ascent with him. The two started out together, and when they got up to where the climbing was dangerous Herman united them by a rope. While moving along over a narrow path with a precipice on one side the tourist slipped and fell on a side of the divide which was but some twenty feet above a ledge. The shock, however, caused Herman to lose his balance, and he fell on the other side and hung over the precipice. His ax slipped from his hands, and he heard it strike far below. Fortunately, the rope held, but Herman knew that would not long bear the strain and any rubbing against the sharp rocks on the edge of the divide would surely cause it to break. For this reason he could not use it to climb up on, and, having no ax, he could not cut steps in the ice. He called out to the tourist:

"We cannot remain long in this position, for as soon as night comes and the temperature falls we will freeze. If I cut the rope you will fall on the ledge and can descend the mountain. I would like to sell you my life for money. It will enable you to live."

The Englishman would not at first consent to any such plan, asserting that he would blame himself and be blamed for accepting his life on such terms. But Herman told him that the small strands that composed the rope were gradually giving way and it would soon break, so the tourist finally said that he would accede to Herman's terms, though he could not see how the latter could be benefited by money after his death. Then Herman told him it was to be paid to Anna, the daughter of old Gottlieb, the cheesemaker in the valley.

"I will give her," said the tourist, "half of what I possess, or $10,000."

"She will not know what to do with so much," said Herman, "but you can settle that with her father."

The tourist heard nothing more from Herman. Some minutes passed, awful minutes, during which the Englishman knew that a soul was preparing for death. The surrounding mountains seemed a part of eternity, the silence that of infinite space. Then suddenly he dropped, landing on the ledge below.

For awhile his mind was so filled with the terrible fate of his guide that he could think of nothing else. Then, realizing that he must save himself in order to keep his part of the contract he had made, he got up and, walking along the ledge, found a place some distance below where he could reach the path by which he and his guide had ascended. Night came on, and he lost his way. He would have sunk down in the snow and permitted the cold to end his life had he not been buoyed by a desire to pay the money he had promised. Indeed, when he thought that he must live under a cloud of his guide's death and his own safety he would have preferred to die. He stopped to rest and was getting drowsy when he saw a light in a chert window some distance below. It, too, he struggled on and when a door was opened to him fell on the floor, insensible.

The next day he descended into the valley and appeared at the Gottlieb home. When Anna saw him come in alone and looking haggard she knew her lover had perished and swooned.

The tourist told them that Herman had gone down into a precipice, then, without further explanation, called for a notary and executed papers transferring to Anna Gottlieb property in England worth $50,000.

"I wonder," said the awe-stricken cheesemaker, "how Herman knew that the opportunity would occur for him to make this provision for my daughter?"

Herman Beck was the only person who could throw any light on this, and since he was dead it must remain a secret.

How to Clean Tapestry.
Shake the tapestry gently but well to remove loose dirt and then immerse it in a cleansing fluid composed as follows. Take four ounces of soap to a quart of water and boil it until it becomes a jelly; then divide this equally in two tubs of hot water, adding a cup of bran to each tub to prevent the colors from running. It is best to sew the bran in cheese cloth bags, so that it will not stick to the fabric.
After washing the tapestry alternately in the two tubs, rinse in water strongly flavored with vinegar (to prevent colors fading) and dry.
After the heavier weight of the water is out, stiffen with a thin boiled starch and iron quickly on the wrong side with a rather hot iron.

Ready to Meet Emergencies.
"Be systematically heroic in little unnecessary points. Every day do something for no other reason than its difficulty, so that if an hour of need should come, it may find you trained to stand the test. The man who has daily inured himself to habits of concentrated attention, energetic will, and self-denial in unnecessary things, will stand like a tower when everything rocks around him."
—William James.

MINCE PIE FOR BREAKFAST

It Might Pay Those Who Declare It Is Wrong to Try It for Awhile.

When our Puritan ancestors wished to throw the last touch of cerulean gloom into the blue laws they enacted to wit: "That no one shall make mince pies, or play any instrument, except the trumpet, drum, and Jew's-harp." As a means of mortifying the flesh and throwing a damper on the joys of the world this prohibition of mince pies was ever regarded as more effective than placing the aforementioned musical instruments in unskilled hands. It afforded almost as much quiet pleasure to the early New England conscience as refusing food and lodging "to Quakers and other heretics."

When the reaction set in it followed the pendulous law of reforms and swung just as far the other way. The skill in the making of mince pies became the very touchstone of good citizenship. The recipes always enumerated the brandy and the currants and the raisins first, and then, as a sort of afterthought, made casual mention that a little "finely cut meat" might improve the mince.

But the uncongenial environment under which the mince pie was born left upon it a superstitious tradition that it was not altogether wholesome. In spite of the increasing number of people who survive a second helping this prejudice obtains here and there unto the present time.

HUMOR OF THEIR CWN MAKE

No Profession, Trade or Industry But Has Its Own Technical Jokes.

There is hardly a profession, trade or industry nowadays that does not have a periodical or organ of its own. And few, indeed, are the publications of this kind that do not devote a weekly or monthly page to the "lighter side" of the branches of human activity to which they are devoted. This technical humor has a twofold interest for the layman, that of the jokes and anecdotes he can appreciate on the one hand and that of those which are incomprehensible to him on the other.

He finds no difficulty, for instance, in the familiar anecdote of the bank president's daughter who, on being informed that her account was overdrawn, severely told the paying teller "not to let it happen again or she would have to speak to papa about it," but he would very likely be unable to see the humor of a banking story whose point lay in some detail of the routine of the clearing house. And yet the latter might be by far the better of the two. The fun of the story of the new boy in the machine shop who is told to fetch a bucket of steam from the engine room is obvious enough, but that of an anecdote turning on some technical point of machine construction will appeal only to the initiate. Medicine has its strictly professional anecdotes of sickroom, consulting room and operating room, many of which would be grisly to the layman if he could grasp their meaning; but it has also, for his amusement, its tales of the amazing misinterpretations of medical directions by the unsophisticated patients, chiefly of Irish and German nativity. The church and the law, the arts and the sciences all have this double form of humor. No doubt even the undertaker's shop has its fund of anecdote. One willingly takes it for granted.

The body of humor keeps close step with progress and development in all the professions, trades and industries. The humorous columns of their organs are there to prove it. No doubt aviation has already developed a fund of technical anecdotes of its own.

CURIOUS WORK OF PENANCE

Ancient Buddhist of Japan Writes 126,000 Words on Piece of Paper 13 by 7 1/2 Inches.

For some time there has been shown in San Francisco a piece of paper 13 inches by 7 1/2 inches, on which there are written 126,000 words. This writing is the work of Kobo Taishi, a Buddhist of Japan, who lived 1,100 years ago. Before his time his countrymen used only Chinese characters in writing and he evolved the idea of the Japanese alphabet.

The writing on the paper is so fine that a microscope has to be used to decipher the intricate Japanese characters. It is an exact copy of eight books of the Buddhist Bible, and was written by the author as a sort of penance to purify his spirit. It is the property of a descendant of the writer, and has passed as a sacred heirloom from father to son for a thousand years. Every precaution has been taken to insure the safety of the document. In a case of white wood is a beautiful laquered box wrapped in green silk. Within the laquered box is another made of a very light porous wood that is extensively used in the manufacture of cabinets in which to store treasures. In this box is the precious writing.

Queer Monument.
A monument erected in the Straglieno cemetery has a very curious history. It is that of an old woman of Genoa, who made a living by selling strings of nuts in the streets. By frugality and industry she succeeded in amassing a small fortune in this way, and then commissioned a well known sculptor of Genoa, Luigi Orongo, to make a life size portrait of her in marble just as she appeared at her pitch in the street. This statue she ordered to be placed in the famous Straglieno cemetery, probably the largest in the world.—World Wide Magazine.

Meredith on French Criticism.
I hold strongly to the value of French criticism, whether in praise or blame. The latter is done (by the masters in the art) with so fine an irony that it instructs without wounding any but the vainest person; and the eulogy confers green laurels instead of gilt. England has little criticism beyond the expression of likes or dislikes, the stout vindication of an old conservatism of taste.—Meredith's Letters in Scribner's Magazine.

Watch It Grow

Watch it through the columns of The Daytona Gazette-News. It is published every Saturday the year 'round. More than a million dollars in improvements in Daytona and vicinity have been made during the past year and many large undertakings are laid out for the coming season, and you will want, of course, to keep abreast with the progress of the community.

It gives you more local news than all local papers of Volusia combined. Many of the little personals about persons with whom you are acquainted will interest you.

TREMENDOUS LOCK GATES AT GATUN

Nothing else so impresses the visitor to the Panama canal as does the immense size of the lock gates at Gatun. They are necessarily of immense strength and powerful machinery is required to open and close them.

ORMOND

ORMOND, Jan. 15—Major and Mrs. David Lewis of Hyde Park, Boston, who have been in Ormond for the past week, went on to Miami Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are planning to spend several weeks in Miami, and possibly may return to Ormond later in the season. They will both be much missed this winter from our social and church life.

The first Skalp whist party of the season was given at the library rooms on Palmetto street Friday evening last. There were 12 tables and all enjoyed this lively game. Mrs. Daniel Abbott and Mrs. Frank Mason entertained.

An excursion consisting of about 150 people connected with the New York Life Insurance company, arrived at the Ormond hotel Sunday afternoon. Such an excursion this early in the season makes the town and beach gay with life and movement.

J. R. Ellicott is planning to make many improvements on his extensive grounds, as well as remodel his house and build a boathouse for his new boats. Mr. Ellicott thoroughly enjoys entertaining his northern friends during the winter months and is most hospitable.

The Ormond hotel management has arranged to have a car leave the beach each Sunday morning at 10:05; the hotel at 10:10; returning from the village at 11:40. This will enable all those who wish to attend the union church services to do so.

William Jenks of Boston, arrived Wednesday afternoon for a few weeks' stay.

James Carneil is supplying the Ormond hotel with some fine, fresh vegetables from his garden.

James Ditson and family, who have engaged the Putnam bungalow for the season, arrived this week.

A large number of the New York Life people, who are stopping at the Hotel Ormond, had a trip up the Tomoka Wednesday. Paul Pinkerton took several of his New York friends, while the remainder of the party were taken by Geo. B. Merritt on the boat, Southland.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Emmons will regret to learn that she still continues to be quite ill. Mrs. Emmons now has a trained nurse.

Major David W. Lewis and Mayor Milligan enjoyed a fishing trip in company with John A. Reilly Monday afternoon. They caught some fine bass and trout in the Tomoka.

Both the Hotel Ormond and Bretton Inn have a much larger number of guests this season than at the same time last winter. James Vining, owner of the Bretton Inn, states that all his available space is taken for the months of February and March.

John Hastorf and family arrived Saturday night and are occupying the "Connecticut." His brother, Harry Hastorf, with his family, arrived at the same time and are located in W. H. Barker's house for the season.

VICTOR HUGO'S ACACIA TREE

Planted in Childhood by Author, It Has Just Been Saved From Destruction in Paris.

An acacia tree, supposed to have been planted by Victor Hugo in his childhood has just been saved from destruction in Paris. The tree stands in the Boulevard Raspail, and its tall, curved trunk has long been familiar to the inhabitants of that quarter. A short time ago a certain M. Charuin bought the plot upon which it grew for the purpose of erecting a mansion. The whole quarter was disturbed at the news that a tree of such traditions was about to disappear.

When, however, M. Charuin heard that his new mansion was likely to demolish the object of a veneration with which he sympathized, he altered his architectural plans spontaneously, and built a semi-circular frontage to his house, just inclosing the acacia within the railings.

The association of it with Victor Hugo is disputed by authorities on that poet's life, but one may feel gratified that a tradition retains such vigorous life and that the marking of places connected with famous men is not yet purely municipal in Paris.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, Jan. 16—Miss Grace Partridge came down from Jacksonville Saturday for a brief visit with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Partridge.

Miss Susie Crews of Genoa is here visiting her brother.

The convicts, who have been working on the county road, were removed last week.

James Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ahlman and Mrs. Ahlman's son, C. H. Stewart, of Cleveland Ohio, arrived at the Ferndale last week. Mr. Stewart returned the next day owing to stress of business, but the others are stopping south for the winter. Mr. Davies owns the property on the corner of Ridgewood and Main street, and he has spent several winters here. Mr. and Mrs. Ahlman are delighted with beautiful Daytona.

Roy Robertson, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rich, arrived from New York city a few days ago to visit relatives. He has taken a position as chauffeur at the Clarendon for the season.

Messrs. Yenfield and Young are recent arrivals from Grand Rapids, Mich. Mr. Yenfield is telephone agent for the hotel association.

Miss Sally Carter is home again after a visit with friends in Jacksonville.

WAS VERY HARD TO PLEASE

Broker's Wife Would Appear to Be One of Most Unreasonable of Women.

A prominent broker remarked the other day that he thought his wife was the hardest woman to please in the world. She was always asking him for money when he had none. "John," she would say, "give me 47 cents. The grocery boy is here with a bill." "I can't give you 47 cents," he would say, "but here's half a dollar." "Oh, you're the funniest man. You never have the right change." A dozen times a day she would ask for a few odd pennies.

Finally the broker went into the sub-treasury and obtained $100 worth of bright new pennies. There were 10,000 pennies and he packed them in a suit case and lugged them home. Then he went to a blacksmith shop and had an iron tripod made, and upon this he hung the suit case filled with pennies.

The next day the butcher came with his bill. It amounted to $5.67. "John," said the wife, "give me $5.67." "You will find it on the tripod," he explained. The wife returned in a moment in a great rage. "Why, John," she cried, "I'm not going to count out 567 pennies for this man; I'd be ashamed. It's a wonder you can never have the right change."

PORT ORANGE

PORT ORANGE, Jan. 16—Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Bell and two ladies arrived and rented Dr. Du Bois' house on Herbert avenue.

W. L. McDonald is having a large barn and carriage house built at his home on Dunlawton avenue.

Saturday morning everybody in Port Orange who could get there, went to Judge Karn's funeral services at the Bingham & Maley undertaking parlors, Daytona. It was a Masonic funeral. He was a member of that society of long standing.

R. H. Elliott came from St. Augustine Saturday evening and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Milburn.

Miss May Milburn came home Saturday evening and spent Sunday with her parents. They all drove down to Elberton-by-the-Sea, the new winter resort that J. W. Wilbur & Co., of Boston, are building. They have made rapid progress since they started.

Mr. McGinnis of New York and party arrived Sunday and will take the annual cruise down the coast as soon as his yacht can be got ready.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lane arrived here Sunday and as usual are at the Thibble.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Johnson and little daughter of Daytona spent Sunday with Mr. Johnson's sister and brother.

INTERESTING RIDES AND DRIVES POINTS WORTH VISITING

OCEAN BEACH—excellent motor road north for 10 miles and south 10 miles to Mosquito Inlet and the Government lighthouse at Ponce Park. The beach is the most magnificent in the world.

BEED, KNOX & BEED ORANGE GROVE—18 miles, via Ormond, is one of the largest groves in Volusia county and is well worth visiting; can be reached by motor over fairly good road; can also be reached by boat.

NUMBER NINE ORANGE GROVE—large grove, passed on the way to the Beed, Knox & Beed grove, is 12 miles from Daytona.

NEW SMYRNA—16 miles from Daytona, over an excellent hard surfaced road; this drive is said to be the prettiest in the state. New Smyrna are the ruins of an ancient fort and other historical spots, left by the colony of Andrew Turnbull.

OLD SPANISH MISSION—2 miles west of New Smyrna, reached by motor over good road. This mission is without authentic history, but by many it is contended that this is the church built by Columbus on his second voyage to America. The altar is still extant, but at a later date the building was used as a sugar mill.

SPANISH SUGAR MILL—2 miles west of Port Orange and about 1 miles from Daytona; the machinery is still in a good state of preservation, although the mill is presumed to have been built and operated by the early Spanish settlers.

GOVERNMENT LIGHTHOUSE—at Ponce Park, 12 miles from Daytona is reached by boat or by motor at the ocean beach.

MAMMOTH TREE—4 miles from Daytona; an abnormally large tree reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

DELAND—25 miles from Daytona; the county seat of Volusia county and seat of John B. Stetson university; a very picturesque city; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

TOMOKA RIVER—The scenic stream of Florida; reached by excursion boats which leave Daytona daily and run to the navigable head of the stream, 26 miles from the city. Generally a number of alligators may be seen in their native haunts. This is a trip no tourist should miss.

DELEON SPRINGS, 28 miles from Daytona; mammoth spring that throws out thousands of gallons of water a minute; a delightful bathing pool, and picturesque scenery. Spring is situated in an old plantation. Reached by motor over good road; a nice trip for a picnic party.

OAK HILL—hamlet, 10 miles south of New Smyrna; several orange groves in the locality; reached by motor over hard-surfaced road.

ORMOND—six miles from Daytona; here is located the Ormond hotel and a pretty town; nearby are the ruins of Spanish sugar mills.

TURTLE MOUND—26 miles south of Daytona; reached by boat; a mammoth mound of oyster shells supposed to have been left by a prehistoric race of people. Pottery and other antiquities have been discovered in excavating the shell.

PORT ORANGE—an attractive town 6 miles south of Daytona, can be reached by motor over hard-surfaced road; or the trip one way may be made by the road and crossing the Halifax river on the Port Orange bridge, the return can be made on the ocean beach.

CLARENDON GOLF LINKS—2 miles from Daytona and immediately north of the Hotel Clarendon at Seabreeze; the links are now in good condition. The Hotel Clarendon bears the distinction of being the only fireproof winter tourist hotel in the world.

GENERALLY, you may motor in any direction from Daytona and find places and objects of interest which your driver can explain to you; there are many by-roads through the sylvan vegetation that a visitor will greatly enjoy.

ROTHSCHILD'S OF THE EAST

Mitsui Family of Japan Is Famous for Unsurpassed Honor of Their Name.

The Mitsui family of Japan have been called the Rothschilds of the East; but while the fame of the latter has gone abroad over the world, says the Atlantic Monthly, the Mitsuis have remained practically unknown except to a few western merchants who have had extensive dealings with the Orient.

The European family owes its great renown to the fact that for a century there has been no slightest stain upon its commercial honor. But its career, it should be remembered, has been passed in a world where business itself has been held in honor; while the Mitsuis, engaged in a pursuit utterly condemned by public sentiment, for three centuries, in spite of the demoralizing influence of the social ban, have been trusted by government and people alike and have kept the honor of their name unstained. Now, thanks to the new spirit animating the nation, they no longer stand so conspicuously alone.

Other great commercial families are being ranged with this one, their members not only enrolled among the peers of the realm, but ranking with the merchant princes of the west as exponents of all that is honorable in the conduct of mercantile affairs. To their number are yearly being added many of the Samirai, or knightly chivalry of old, who once scorned all contact with trade, but who are now returning to bring to the rescue of their country the fine sense of honor in which they were educated under the ancient regime. That they will eventually succeed in their task, backed as they are by the instinct of common honesty pervading the rank and file, there can be no manner of doubt.

Kindness to Animals.

Every family should plant a few flower seeds, thus providing the family dog with soft earth in which to bury his bone.—Topeka Capital.

PROMINENT RAILROAD MAN SPENDS THE DAY IN DAYTONA

J. B. YOHE AND PARTY TO CUT STAY SHORTER THAN HAD BEEN PLANNED.

J. B. Yohe, general manager of the New York Central lines in Pittsburgh, spent the day in Daytona yesterday and remained over last night in "the prettiest winter resort in the world," leaving on the early train this morning for St. Augustine.
Mr. Yohe is traveling in his private car and is accompanied by his wife, his son, Curtis Yohe, and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Cornelia, also of Pittsburgh. The party has been to Cuba and is now on the way back to Pittsburgh. While in Daytona Mr.
Yohe and members of the party called on their friends, J. W. Shields and family and in the evening entertained on their private car Miss Marguerite Shields and Victor Wray of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Yohe is not a stranger to Daytona, having been a guest at the Clarendon two years ago. Every member of the party was delighted with Daytona and regretted that the recent floods in Pittsburgh have made it necessary for Mr. Yohe to cut his visit in Florida shorter than had been planned.

SELL LARGE TRACT OF TIMBER IN CATSKILLS.

A recent issue of the Fort Plain Standard of Fort Plain, N. Y., contains a notice of the sale of an old and exceedingly valuable lot of timber in the Catskill mountains, owned by Messrs. Charles and George Beach, the purchase being made by H. V. Berry of Fort Plain. The timber is virgin forest and covers 1,020 acres of land.

The article in question says in part:

"The deal is in the nature of a $100,000 transaction, as the trees to be felled are expected to aggregate between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 feet of spruce. Mr. Berry will immediately employ about 50 lumbermen, commence the building of a mile of railroad (which will connect his tract with a permanent railroad) and erect a mill.

"The acres to be cleared have been in the Beach family's possession since 1837 and are near the Catskill Mountain house, a popular summer resort which is owned by the Messrs. Beach and which one can see from the Hudson river boats.
Protests have been numerous now the deal has been closed and the felling of thousands of old, big trees is to take place."

Messrs. Beach are well known here having been coming to Daytona during the winter season for a number of years and the recent death of one of the brothers, Charles Beach,
at his winter home in Daytona Beach, was a cause of general regret in this city and vicinity.

tween a visit and a visitation?" Fond and a visitation is when your Grandmother Jones comes to see us.

IT WAS ON THE WATCHMAN

Thought Belated Husband Needed a Drink After Test Handed Out By Wife.

The new night watchman tiptoed cautiously over the grass, and diving forward, caught the little man by the coat tail and jerked him down to a seat on the lawn. "Come along, me foine feller," he said. "It's up the river for yours. No housebreakin' goes on my beat."

"Oh, let me alone!" exclaimed the little man peevishly. "I'm not housebreaking. This is my own house, and I'm trying to get in. Mind your own business."

"Likely story," grunted the watchman; "enterin' yer own house be the windy at one o'clock in th' mornin'.
Tel that to the Judge."

"I tell you it is my house. My wife locked me out, and I was trying to get in this way when you interfered. The front door is bolted. There's the key, if you want to try. Or you go and ring the front door bell and see what happens."

The watchman, still keeping tight hold of his prey, walked slowly and quietly up to the front door, then suddenly gave the bell a vicious ring. A second floor window opened with a snap.

"William," said a voice so chilly that the watchman shivered down his backbone, "can you say 'six thousand six hundred and sixty-six separate satellites scintillating sparks slowly and with respect to sibilance?'"

The watchman, still grasping the shuddering William, made his way noiselessly to the gate, then whispered
to the little man:

"Say, come down to the corner and get a drink to warm you up after that. I guess it's on me!"
